Description

Exclusive, beautiful and stylish replica of a gentleman's racer from the 1930s. The long nose with the engine compartment in front of the helm and the sharp bow of the Koja Conqueror create a sporty, aggressive silhouette. The high-gloss mahogany veneer of the hull and the immaculately laid teak decks are borrowings from the heyday of gentlemen's racers on the North American lakes. The Mercruiser eight-cylinder provides ample power and, in combination with the carbon-fibre laminated exhaust system with outlet above the water, produces a distinctive sound. The hull was built in exclusive and durable hybrid construction using marine plywood, fibreglass and mahogany veneer on oak frames.
